The meeting started with a little game, which served as an icebreaker, in which each participant had to take a piece of paper from a bag with the name of one of the partners present at the meeting and give a short description of that participant for the other partners to guess. In the end everyone got to know each other a little more and communication between everyone improved.

After the icebreaker activity, Alexandra Teixeira from Paredes Municipality, made the presentation of the meeting's Official Agenda. She addressed each of the activities to be accomplished, as well as the timetable to be followed. All doubts regarding the functioning of the three days were answered.

Afterwards, José Rui Sousa from Europe Direct gave a presentation about the Europe Direct, where he exposed the project and mentioned examples of activities already done. After the presentation, he made a game with the partners called Human Bingo, in which people had to look for people to sign their paper but had to fulfill the requirements of each space on the paper, in order to have all the spaces filled in the end. It was a game that encouraged them to talk to each other and get to know each other better and discover new things about the EU. In addition to this game, the flags/monuments/food association game was also played, where all partners joined together to complete/organize in the correct way.

At lunchtime, they went to eat at the Centro Escolar de Mouriz, where as well as having lunch, they were able to visit the facilities.

After lunch, they went to visit the Paredes Golfe Club, where they had an outdoor activity, with the opportunity to practice the sport. The Paredes Golfe Club has good examples of good practices for integration young people with scholar failure and dropout or citizens that are integrated in reinsertion projects. For Paredes Golfe Club sports can make the difference in promoting wellbeing, self-esteem and reinforce the potential of each individual.
